How plants make food

A sample page for checking parsed text and word boxes.

Photosynthesis

Plants use sunlight, water, and carbon dioxide to make sugar.

Chlorophyll in the leaves captures energy from the Sun.

The plant releases oxygen into the air as a useful by-product.

Key idea: light energy becomes stored chemical energy.

Watch the purple outline follow each indexed word in the preview.